2. Risks and Documentation

- 2.1 You acknowledge that different types of Fund have different structures, investment objectives and policies, distribution policies, price adjustment policy, risk profiles and various fees. You understand that investing in a Fund is not the same as placing funds on deposit with a bank, and such investments are not guaranteed by CGM, and are not protected by any deposit protection scheme in Singapore or any other jurisdictions. You acknowledge that the Funds are subject to investment risks, including possible loss of the principal amount invested, the risk that you may not obtain the expected rates of return, and of possible delays in the payment of monies due to you on redemption of the units in the Fund. The price and income from the units of the Fund may fall or rise. The Sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Fund, and investors should not expect that the Sponsor will provide financial support to the Fund at any time. The Management Company/the Manager has no obligation to redeem Shares at the offer value. The price of Shares and any income from them may fall as well as rise and that the investor may not get back the full amount invested. In an extreme scenario, the value of the Fund may be worth substantially less than the original amount invested and in the worst case could be worthless. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance.
- 2.2 Where the base currency of a Fund and/or the Dealing Currency varies from the investor’s home currency, or where the base currency and/or the Dealing Currency varies from the currencies of the markets in which the Fund invests, exchange rate movements may result in additional Loss (or the prospect of additional gain) to the investor greater than the usual risks of investment. A Fund may, or may not, hedge these risks, and investors should review the Offering Documents carefully. Other risks pertaining to investing in Fund are set out in the RDS.

- 2.3 You understand that while CGM may highlight key information of a Fund to you in the form of a Term Sheet provided by the Manager, the Offering Documents (to be sent to you) of the Fund are the only legally binding documents in respect of the features and the terms of any investment in the Fund. You acknowledge that key information about the Fund (including but not limited to its subscription, redemption and switching, process, investment objectives, policy and restrictions, risk disclosure, distribution policy, calculation of NAV, calculation methodology of various charges and payments, etc.) are set out in the Offering Documents. Any translation of the Offering Documents (if any) will be for information purposes only, and the English version will prevail. In the event that you enter into a Transaction, the relevant terms of the Offering Documents will, to the extent that they are inconsistent with the terms of the Terms of Business and this Annex, prevail.
- 2.4 Prior to engaging in each Transaction, you shall:
- (a) read and fully understand and familiarize yourself with the contents of the Offering Documents and the RDS and seek independent advice from your legal, tax, accounting, financial and other professional advisers as you may consider necessary;
 - (b) understand and consider fully the key nature, features and risk information of the Fund (including but not limited to, its, structure, composition Share Class information (if applicable), investment policies and objectives, restrictions on subscription, switching and redemption, distribution policy, dealing frequency, switching (if available) and redemption arrangements, method of calculation of NAV, price adjustment policy, issue and redemption prices, the nature, key features and risks of the underlying assets, exposures, various fees and charges and provisions for termination) and the inherent risks and the specific terms involved;
 - (c) understand the risks and uncertainties described in Schedule 1 below and elsewhere in the documents are not the only risks facing the Fund. You should read and fully understand the risk disclosure in conjunction with other information contained in the Offering Documents and evaluate such risks associated with investing in the Fund;
 - (d) be satisfied that the Transaction fits your investment experience, investment objectives, financial position, investment time horizon, risk tolerance level, liquidity needs, (if applicable) your view of the prospects and quality of the markets, sectors and assets in which the Fund seeks to invest, tax situation, diversification needs and other relevant circumstances; and
 - (e) (if necessary) seek independent advice on the terms of the Offering Documents of the Fund and the risks involved.
- 2.5 You acknowledge that you will enter into a Transaction in your sole judgment and responsibility without reliance on CGM or on any communication (written or oral) with CGM as investment advice or a recommendation to enter into any Transaction. No communication that you may receive from CGM in connection with any Transaction shall be deemed to be an assurance or guarantee as to the expected results of such Transaction.
- 2.6 You acknowledge and agree that:
- (a) you will not hold CGM responsible for any misstatements in or omissions from any Term Sheet or the Offering Documents;

- (b) neither CGM nor any person acting on CGM's behalf has made any representation to you, express or implied, with respect to the Fund or the accuracy, completeness or adequacy of the Term Sheet or the Offering Documents;
 - (c) CGM shall have no liability for any representations (express or implied) contained in, or for any omissions from, the Term Sheet or the Offering Documents; and
 - (d) CGM shall have no obligation to update any such information or to correct any inaccuracies therein or omissions therefrom which may become apparent, even where CGM is aware of such inaccuracies or omissions; CGM is not obliged to provide any investment information to you, and any memorandum, information or document provided to you at your request is provided for information purposes only.
- 2.7 CGM shall not be required to provide reports and information if to do so would in its reasonable opinion contravene any law or regulation or request or direction of any government or regulatory authority, whether or not having the force of law.
- 2.8 In no event will CGM be liable to you for any Loss arising out of or in connection with the use of or reliance on any information or suggestion or communication from CGM, save to the extent such Loss is directly and wholly caused by CGM's gross negligence or wilful default.

3. Conflicts and Restrictions

- 3.1 You may, by giving an instruction to CGM, enter into one or more Transactions (for the subscription of a Fund) as may be agreed between you and CGM.
- 3.2 You understand that Funds which are not authorized or recognised by the MAS are not intended for offer to the public and that no offering document has been issued in relation to them under the SFA. Such Fund should not be offered in a manner that would constitute an offer or sale, or invitation for subscription or purchase to the public within the meaning of the SFA or that would result in the document being a "prospectus" as defined in the SFA. Accordingly, you acknowledge and agree that in such cases the Term Sheet and the Offering Documents and other documents are communicated to you on a strictly private and confidential basis and only for your personal perusal in Singapore, and you shall not pass on, disclose or communicate the same or any part thereof, to third parties under any circumstances and shall be responsible for the security and safekeeping of such documents and be responsible for the consequences of its misuse, whether such misuse results in the distribution of them in breach of the SFA or otherwise.
- 3.3 You acknowledge that the Offering Documents may contain certain restrictions which may impose ownership prohibitions or restrictions (including but not limited to a person's age, nationality, citizenship, residence or domicile, investor qualification.) applicable to the relevant Fund. You shall review the Offering Documents carefully and ascertain whether you are an eligible investor for a particular Fund before entering into any Transactions. You understand that in some cases, the Board of Directors of a Fund may restrict or prevent the ownership of Shares. Where it appears that a person who is not an eligible investor, either alone, or in conjunction with any other person, is a beneficial owner of Shares, or a Shareholder, the Board of Directors may resolve or require that the Shares so owned be compulsorily redeemed.
- 3.4 In respect of each Transaction, you shall also ensure compliance with all Applicable Laws and all other legislation, guidelines, codes, rules, restrictions and regulations in force and applicable to you (whether imposed by applicable law or by competent regulatory authorities) in any relevant jurisdiction from time to time, including, without limitation, those relating to tax reporting, anti-money laundering etc.

- 3.5 You acknowledge that unless otherwise stated in a separate disclosure document provided to you, CGM will act as your agent in assisting you to subscribe any Fund (and CGM will not act as principal or as an agent of the Fund/Management Company/Manager) and that CGM will have no liability for any Loss directly or indirectly suffered by you or any third parties arising from or in connection with any Transactions or in respect of this Annex. Where CGM and/or any Affiliates receive monetary benefits from the Manager (directly or indirectly), CGM may disclose the monetary benefits that are receivable by it and/or any Affiliates if required under applicable laws and regulations. You agree that CGM and its Affiliates may receive and retain those benefits.
- 3.6 You acknowledge that due to the diverse nature of the business activities of CGM, Affiliates and other members of the CLSA Group, potential and actual conflicts of interest may arise due to the different roles played by the various entities within the CLSA Group. A member(s) of the CLSA Group may, in some cases, act as the sponsor, management company/investment manager/investment advisor of the Fund, and each of its directors, shareholders, officers, employees, representatives or agents may act as directors of the Fund. In other cases, a member(s) of the CLSA Group and/or each of its directors, shareholders, officers, employees, representatives or agents may have or have had owned Shares in a Fund or other interests in or dealings with the Fund, its Management Company and/or its Manager or may effect transactions as principal or agent, with or for the Fund or other Funds managed by the same Management Company, Manager or its affiliates. CGM and/or other members of the CLSA Group may be entitled to receive a fee for the provision of any such services, and (if applicable) each of its directors, shareholders, officers, employees, representatives or agents may receive remuneration from the Fund. A member of the CLSA Group may rely on information barriers to control the flow of information contained in one or more areas within the CLSA Group into other areas, divisions, entities or affiliates.
- 3.7 In connection with any Transaction, you understand that upon instructing CGM to act as your agent for the purpose of entering into a Transaction, the Management Company/the Manager acting on behalf of the Fund may be a company within the CLSA Group. In such circumstances and for the avoidance of doubt, you acknowledge and agree that you shall not at any time deal directly in any Transaction with any other CLSA Group companies. You are advised to seek independent professional advice as you deem appropriate to evaluate the risk of this potential conflict of interest. By entering into any Transaction, you agree to waive any actual or potential conflict of interest due to such affiliation. In the ordinary course of its business, the CLSA Group may effect Transactions for their own account or for the account of their clients. In conducting such business, CLSA Group is not obliged to take into account the circumstances of any parties or act in a manner that is favourable to them. Such activity may, or may not affect the value of the Transaction, and you should be aware that a conflict may arise.
- 3.8 As pointed out above, the Management Company and/or the Manager acting on behalf of the Fund may be a company within the CLSA Group. They or their affiliates may receive fees for distributing the Fund, (if applicable) for its services provided to the Fund and/or executing trades or carrying out hedging activities for the Fund. Further, the Sponsor may also be a member of the CLSA Group and the investment company/vehicle so formed by the Sponsor will receive all the net proceeds from the offerings. You are also advised to seek independent professional advice as you deem appropriate to evaluate the risk of this potential conflict of interest.

You agree to be bound by the terms and conditions of any agreements between the Nominee (in its capacity as his nominee or registered holder of the Shares in the relevant Fund on his behalf) and the Fund (or representatives of the Fund) in respect of the Shares held by the Nominee for you, and such other terms and conditions stipulated in the Offering Documents or other relevant documents.
- 5.11 CGM may receive a commission from the distributor of the Fund (which may be an Affiliate) or the Management Company/Manager (on the subscription orders it has executed or transmitted). Further information on the commission CGM receives may be available in the Offering Documents or the information may be provided by CGM in another manner (if required under Applicable Laws).
- 5.12 You also understand that subscription, transfer, redemption, switching and dealing of Shares are subject to the same terms stipulated in the Offering Documents or those prescribed by the Manager or service providers of the Fund from time to time and will be handled by CGM accordingly. You should refer to these documents for requirements relating to redemption and switching and the relevant dealing practices of the Fund in question. For any Transactions involving currency conversion, you understand that variation in fund/scheme domiciles and/or Transaction types may result in different exchange rate being applied.
- 5.13 Instructions for further subscription/purchase, redemption/sale or switching of Shares in any of the Fund may be given by telephone or via email. In respect of transfers of Shares in any of the Fund, instructions shall be given in prescribed form or in such manner as CGM may prescribe from time to time.
- 5.14 You also understand that instructions for subscriptions, redemptions or switches (as the case may be) which the Management Company/Manager considers unclear or incomplete may lead to a delay in their execution. Such instructions will only be executed once they have been verified and confirmed to the Management Company/Manager's satisfaction. Neither CGM, its Affiliates, the Management Company nor the Manager will be liable for any Loss which may result from delays that arise from unclear instructions.
- 5.15 Short term or excessive trading into and out of a Fund may harm its performance by disrupting portfolio management strategies and by increasing expenses. You acknowledge that many Funds do not permit market timing or related excessive, short-term trading practices and understands that your investment should be held on a long-term basis. The Management Company and/or the Manager or its agent may reject any request for the subscription, switching or transfer of Shares from any investor engaging in such practices or suspected of engaging in such practices and may take such further action as they may deem appropriate or necessary. For more information on frequent trading and market timing policies of a Fund, you are advised to refer to its Offering Documents.

5.16 You understand that in some cases, the Board of Directors or the Management Company may require, to the extent permitted by Applicable Laws in accordance with the provisions of the Scheme Documents, compulsory redemption of Shares held by a Restricted Person. The Board of Directors or the Management Company may also require that intermediaries (like CGM) compulsorily redeem Shares held by or on behalf of such a person. You shall notify CGM immediately in the event that you are or become a Restricted Person or if your holding might result in:

- (a) a breach of any: (i) Applicable Laws or other legislation, regulations, codes or directions; (ii) requirement of any country; or (iii) requirements of any governmental authority;
- (b) the Fund (including its Shareholders) or any of its delegates incurring any liability to taxation or suffering any sanction, penalty, burden or other disadvantage (whether pecuniary, administrative or operational) which the Fund (including its Shareholders) or its delegates might not otherwise have incurred or suffered or otherwise be detrimental to the interests of the Fund (including its Shareholders); or
- (c) you (as a Shareholder) exceeding any limit to which your shareholding is subject.

You also understand that if a person who should be precluded from holding Shares, either alone or in conjunction with any other person, is a Shareholder, the Board of Directors or the Management Company may require compulsory redemption of all Shares so owned.

5.17 You also understand that restrictions on subscription of Shares may also apply to transfer of Shares to a Restricted Person. Where it appears that a person who should be precluded from holding Shares, either alone, or in conjunction with any other person, is a beneficial owner of Shares, or a Shareholder, the Board of Directors and/or the Management Company may require compulsory redemption of all Shares so owned.

5.18 You acknowledge that Shares may only be redeemed on the Dealing Day and that the Management Company may charge a redemption charge on the redemption of Shares and such charge will be deducted from the redemption monies where applicable. The Management Company may also increase the redemption charge upon giving Shareholders written notice. Investors are usually required to give the Manager prior notice of an intended redemption. Different Funds will have different requirements and procedures. You should refer to the Offering Documents for details.

5.19 You understand that redemption or switching of your holding may be deemed as a disposal for tax purposes. Generally, investors will not be subject to Singapore income tax on gains realized on the redemption or switching of any Shares if the gain is capital in nature. However, if any gain from switching or redemption of Shares is accrued in or derived from or received in Singapore in respect of a trade, profession or business carried on in Singapore, the gains realized may attract Singapore income tax. You are advised to seek independent professional advice if you have any concerns about your tax position.

- 5.20 Further, depending on the Fund in question, the Board of Directors/the Management Company/the Manager may suspend the issue, redemption and switching of Shares or extend the maturity date if applicable and unwind the Fund under some circumstances. You should refer to the Offering Documents for details.
- 5.21 You agree that CGM shall not be liable for any failure, refusal or delay by the Management Company, the Manager, administrator, custodian or other relevant party to execute any instruction to buy, sell or otherwise deal with investment/securities held by any Fund or to remit distributions on such securities or the proceeds of sale of such investment/securities.
- 5.22 You acknowledge that cancellation of any instructions with respect to a Fund may not be permitted under the Offering Documents or the Scheme Documents, and, even if permitted, is not within the control of CGM and, accordingly, CGM can give no assurance that any request to cancel an instruction will be accepted by the Fund. CGM shall not be liable in any way for failure to cancel any instructions.

Such instructions will only be given to the Nominee by CGM acting as your agent, provided that sufficient notice has been given by you to enable CGM and the Nominee to so act. Save as otherwise provided by Applicable Laws, CGM and the Nominees shall have no duty or obligation to exercise the voting rights or other elective rights for you, except upon your prior written instructions in such form and by such time as prescribed by CGM from time to time and only upon such terms, conditions, indemnities, fees and charges as agreed by CGM with you.
 - (b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, you acknowledge that it may be difficult, impracticable or impermissible for the Nominee to exercise any rights or entitlements or to participate in any corporate actions, transactions or other matters in respect of Shares under Applicable Laws or in other circumstances as the Nominee determines. To the extent permissible under Applicable Laws, the Nominee may in its sole and absolute discretion and without prior notice and without liability refuse to accept your instruction in relation to these matters.
 - (c) In the absence of instructions from or agreement with you, CGM and the Nominees may, but are not obligated to, exercise the voting rights or other elective rights of the Shares. Under such circumstance, you agree that CGM and the Nominees may be exempted from any duty and obligation in respect of notification and delivery of any proxy or other documents issued to the Shareholders, unless otherwise required under Applicable Laws.

- 6.3 Unless you notify CGM of any errors or discrepancies in accordance with Clause 6.2 above, the relevant Confirmation, advice, receipt and statement shall be deemed to be accurate and contain all entries that should be contained, and you agree to be conclusively bound by it.
- 6.4 CGM shall have no liability in relation to claims in respect of any entries or any errors in any Confirmation, advice, receipt or statement other than any entry or error that you have objected to by giving written notice to CGM within the above prescribed time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CGM may, at any time and without assuming or incurring any liability to you, reverse, rectify or amend the entries reflected in a Confirmation, advice, receipt or statement to correct any administrative, clerical, operational or computer errors. You agree that a document so reversed, rectified or corrected shall be binding as between you and CGM.

SCHEDULE 1

Risk Disclosure Statement – Fund

To : The Customer

This Risk Disclosure Statement does NOT disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of investing in Fund. In light of the risks, you should undertake such transactions only if you understand the nature and key features of the product and the extent of your exposure to risk. You should carefully consider whether the proposed investment is appropriate for you in light of your experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances. Please read this Schedule carefully, and ask questions and take independent professional advice as you consider appropriate.

1. Key Risks

- 1.1 Investments in Fund are not protected deposits and are hence not protected by any deposit protection scheme in Singapore or any other jurisdictions.

Historical Performance

- 1.2 Past performance is NOT an indication of how a Fund will perform in the future and cannot in any way provide a guarantee for future returns.

Fluctuations in Value

- 1.3 The investments of a Fund are subject to market fluctuations and other risks inherent in investing in securities and other financial instruments. The values of Shares in the Fund may depreciate as well as appreciate, and you may lost all or a substantial portion of your investment. Accordingly, an investment in the Fund should only be made by persons who are able to bear the risk of loss of entire amount invested. There is no assurance that the investment objective of each Fund will actually be achieved.

Termination of Funds/Share Classes

- 1.4 In the event of the termination of a Fund or a Share Class, the assets of the Fund or the Share Class will be realized, the liabilities discharged and the net proceeds of realization distributed to Shareholders in proportion to their holding of Shares in that Fund or Share Class. At the time of such realization or distribution, certain investments held by the Fund or Share Class may be worth less than the initial cost of such investments, resulting in a loss to the Shareholders. All normal operating expenses incurred up to the point of termination will be borne by the Fund or the Share Class. There are no unamortized organizational expenses with regard to a Fund or a Share Class.

Holdings Concentration

- 1.5 Some Fund are concentrated in specific industry sectors/instruments/geographical location. Such concentration may exhibit a higher than usual degree of risk and they may be subject to above average volatility. The diversification benefits that would ordinarily accrue from investment in a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments, may not apply to such Fund.

Liquidity Risk

- 1.6 Under normal market conditions, a Fund's assets comprise mainly realizable investments which can be readily sold. A Fund's main liability is the redemption of any Shares that investors wish to sell. Usually, a Fund will manage its investments, including cash, so that it can meet its liabilities. Investments held may need to be sold if insufficient cash is available to finance such redemptions. If the size of the disposals is large, or the market is illiquid, then there is a risk that either the investments might not be sold or the price at which they are sold may adversely affect the NAV of the Fund.

Asset Allocation Risk

- 1.7 Some Fund invest in assets based on a specific time frame or target date, and as such, may automatically reallocate the asset mix in their portfolios accordingly. As it moves closer to its target date, its asset allocation generally becomes more conservative. The performance of a Fund is dependent on the outcome of its asset allocation. There is no assurance that the strategy employed by it will result in the specified investment result and therefore there is no assurance that the investors' investment objective will be achieved. Certain Fund may employ a dynamic asset allocation strategy. As they will actively manage their investments and the allocation among the different types of assets, they will incur greater transaction costs than one with a static allocation strategy. For some Fund, the asset allocation between debt and equity securities may change significantly from time to time and their investments may be periodically rebalanced, and such dynamic asset allocation of investments may not achieve the desired results under all circumstances and market conditions.

Credit Risk

- 1.8 The NAV of a Fund may also be adversely affected if any of the institutions with which money is deposited suffers insolvency or other financial difficulties (default). Credit risk also arises from the uncertainty about the ultimate repayment of principal and interest in respect of bond or other debt instrument investments or derivatives which are held by a Fund. In both cases the entire deposit or purchase price of the debt instrument is at risk of loss if there is no recovery after default. The risk of default is usually greatest with derivatives and bonds and debt instruments that are classed as 'sub-investment' grade. Investors should find out what kind of assets a Fund proposes to invest in and the risks involved before deciding whether or not to subscribe it.

Pricing and Valuation Risk

- 1.9 If a Fund invests mainly in instruments that are exchange-traded, then a valuation price can be obtained from an exchange or similarly verifiable source. However, A Fund may also invest in unquoted and/or illiquid investments which will increase the risk of mispricing. Further, a Fund may have to compute NAV when some markets are closed for holidays or other reasons. In these and similar cases an objective verifiable source of market prices will not be available and the Manager will invoke its fair value process, which will determine a fair value price for the relevant investments; this fair value process involves assumptions and subjectivity.

Legal and Tax Risks

- 1.10 Legal, tax and regulatory changes could occur that may adversely affect the performance of the Fund. The tax and regulatory environment of Fund is evolving, and changes in the regulation or tax treatment of Fund and its trading and investment activity may adversely affect the ability of the Fund to pursue its investment objective. In some jurisdictions, the interpretation and implementation of laws and regulations and the enforcement of Shareholders' rights under such laws and regulations may involve significant uncertainties. Further, there may be differences between accounting and auditing standards, reporting practices and disclosure requirements and those generally accepted internationally. Some of the Fund may be subject to withholding and other taxes. Tax law and regulations of any country may change and sometimes even with retrospective effect. The interpretation and applicability of the tax law and regulations by tax authorities in some jurisdictions may not be as consistent and transparent as those of more developed nations, and may vary from region to region. You should also be aware that foreign exchange inflows and outflows for some markets are subject to tax. Such taxation will reduce the NAV per Share.

Risk associated with FATCA

- 1.11 While a Fund will endeavor to fully comply with the legislation and the obligations imposed on it by FATCA and meet its obligation under the inter-governmental agreement with the U.S., but no assurance can be given that it will be able to fully achieve this and avoid being subject to U.S. withholding taxes. If for any reason the Fund is deemed by the U.S. government to not be meeting its obligations, the Fund may become subject to additional U.S. withholding taxes, which could materially impact income returns from certain U.S. source securities (if any). In addition, Shareholders may suffer material loss in certain Fund where U.S. withholding tax is imposed on the capital value of U.S. source securities. Investors should consult their legal, tax and financial advisers to determine their status under the FATCA regime before making any decision to invest in any Fund.

Foreign Exchange Risk

- 1.12 A Fund's total return and balance sheet can be significantly affected by foreign exchange rate movements if its assets and income are denominated in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund, and this means that currency movements may significantly affect the value of its Share price. Movements in exchange rates may affect the value of investments, short-term timing differences or income received. A Fund may, or may not, hedge these risks using either spot or forward foreign exchange contracts, and the associated risks are explained below in the section on "Derivative Instruments".
- 1.13 You should also be aware of the fact that the Chinese Renminbi (RMB) is subject to a managed floating exchange rate based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies. Currently, the RMB is traded in two markets: one in Mainland China (onshore RMB, or CNY), and one outside Mainland China (primarily in Hong Kong) (offshore RMB, or CNH). Although CNH and CNY are the same currency, they trade at different rates, and any divergence between CNH and CNY may adversely impact investors. Onshore RMB is not freely convertible and is subject to exchange controls and certain requirements by the government of Mainland China, whereas the offshore RMB traded outside Mainland China is freely tradable. Whilst the RMB is traded freely outside Mainland China, the RMB spot, forward foreign exchange contracts and related instruments reflect the structural complexities of this evolving market. Non-RMB based investors of the fund may be exposed to greater foreign exchange risks. There is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors' base currencies will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of the Shares.

Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.

In addition, there may be liquidity risks associated with RMB products, especially if such investments do not have an active secondary market and their prices are subject to significant bid and offer spread.

Counterparty Credit & Settlement Risk

- 1.14 A Fund may enter into transactions directly with brokers or other counterparties that have been approved by the Manager, which will expose it to the credit of those counterparties and their ability to satisfy the terms of such contracts. Such transactions generally do not benefit from protections afforded to exchange-traded transactions which include being backed by clearing organization guarantees, daily marking-to-market and settlement, and segregation and minimum capital requirements applicable to intermediaries. In the event of a bankruptcy or insolvency of a counterparty, the Fund could experience delays in liquidating the position and losses, including declines in the value of its investment during the period in which it seeks to enforce its rights, inability to realize any gains on its investment during such period and fees and expenses incurred in enforcing its rights.
- 1.15 There is a risk of loss if a counterparty fails to perform its financial or other obligations to the funds, for example, a counterparty may default, by failing to make payments due, or make payments in a timely manner. Further, in some markets 'Delivery versus Payment' may not be possible in which case the absolute value of the contract is at risk if the fund meets its settlement obligations but the counterparty fails before meeting its obligations.
- 1.16 Further, the agreements with counterparties may be terminated due, for instance, to change in laws making them unlawful or unenforceable or change in the tax or accounting laws relative to those at the time the agreement was originated. Counterparty risk is naturally accentuated for contracts with longer maturities, or where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. Usually, a Fund is not restricted from dealing with any particular counterparty or the number of counterparties with which it transacts.

Reliance on the Management Company/the Manager

- 1.17 The Fund is highly dependent upon the expertise and ability of its Management Company/the Manager, which will have investment discretion over Fund. The investment strategies employed by Management Company/the Manager may involve risks under some market conditions that are not anticipated by them. Furthermore, the death, incapacity or retirement of any key person of the Management Company/the Manager may also adversely affect the investment results.

No management rights

- 1.18 The Shareholder (including the nominee) usually has no right to participate in the management of the Fund or conduct of its business. There exists broad discretion to vary the nature and concentration of the Fund's investment without the consent of the Shareholders. Any decision to engage in a new activity could result in the exposure of the Fund to additional risk, which may be substantial. You are encouraged to consult your own legal, tax and financial advisors regarding the desirability of purchasing the Shares and the suitability of an investment in the Fund.

Securities Lending

- 1.19 Some Fund may allow securities lending. If so, some risks will be involved: (a) if the borrower of securities lent by a Fund fails to return them there is a risk that the collateral received may realize less than the value of the securities lent out, whether due to inaccurate pricing, downgrading of the credit rating of issuers of the collateral, adverse market movements or the illiquidity of the collateral itself or of the market in which the collateral is traded; (b) if the Fund reinvests the cash collateral, such reinvestment may (i) create leverage with corresponding risks and risk of losses and volatility, (ii) introduce market exposures inconsistent with the investment objective of the Fund, or (iii) yield a sum less than the amount of collateral to be returned; and (c) delays in the return of securities on loans may impair the ability of the Fund to meet delivery obligations under other contracts.

Investment Horizon Risk

- 1.20 Fund will select investments in accordance with its investment objectives. Its investments and may not closely align with your investment horizon. If you do not accurately select a Fund that closely aligns with your investment horizon, there may be a risk of potential mismatch between your investment horizon and that of the Fund.

Cross Share Class Liabilities

- 1.21 Although assets and liabilities are often attributable to each Share Class, there is no legal segregation between different Share Classes within a Fund. This means that if the liabilities of a Share Class exceed its assets, creditors of such class may have recourse without restriction to assets which are attributable to the other Share Classes within the same Fund. Hence, Shareholders should note that specific transactions (for example, currency hedging or interest rate duration management) may be entered into for the benefit of a particular Share Class but result in liabilities for the other Share Classes within the same Fund.

Operational Risk

- 1.22 The Fund's operations (including investment management) are carried out by the service providers mentioned in Offering Documents. In the event of a bankruptcy or insolvency of a service provider, investors could experience delays (for example, delays in the processing of subscriptions, conversions and redemption of Shares) or other disruptions.

Custody Risk

- 1.23 A Fund's assets are safe kept by a Custodian, this exposes it to the risk of loss of assets placed in custody as a result of insolvency, negligence or fraudulent trading by the Custodian. The Custodian may not necessarily keep all the assets of the Fund itself but uses a network of third-party delegates. Investors are also exposed to the risk of bankruptcy of such delegates. Sometimes, a Fund may invest in markets where custodial and/or settlement systems are not fully developed.

Risk Associated with Distribution

- 1.24 For some Fund or Share Classes, dividends may be paid out of capital where the investment income/capital gain generated by the Fund is insufficient to pay a distribution as declared. Some Share Classes may pay dividends out of net investment income. Others may pay dividends out of gross investment income whilst all or part of their fees and expenses are paid out of capital, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends to such classes. You should review the distribution policy of the Fund and find out its frequency, dividend rate and whether it may distribute not only out of investment income, but also realized and unrealized capital gains or capital. You should also note that the payment of dividends out of capital represents a return or withdrawal of part of the amount you originally invested or from any capital gains attributable to the original investment. Such distributions may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV per Share of the Fund and in the capital that the Fund has available for investment in the future. Hence, such distribution out of capital may reduce capital growth, and a high distribution yield does not imply a positive or high return on your total investments.

Leverage Risks

- 1.25 Some Fund may have net leveraged exposure of more than 100% of its NAV and are therefore subject to high leverage risk. This will further magnify any potential negative impact of any change in the value of the underlying asset of such Fund and also increase the volatility of the Share prices and may even lead to significant losses.

Emerging Markets

- 1.26 Some Fund may invest in emerging markets. The term “emerging markets” refers to markets in countries with moderate to low per capita national income. While investments in emerging markets can yield large gains, they can also be highly risky as they could be unpredictable and there may additional risks, including accelerated inflation, exchange rate fluctuations, adverse repatriation laws and fiscal measures, inadequate regulations and safeguards available to investors and macroeconomic and political distress. Investments may not be readily saleable, and information to determine their current value may not be available in emerging markets. The above factors may affect the value of an investment or your ability to enjoy its benefits. Further, events (for instance, natural disasters, fluctuations in commodity prices or exchange rates and political upheavals) which may have a minor or limited effect in more mature markets could affect emerging markets profoundly. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of such markets mean that they are more suited to experienced and sophisticated investors, who have independent knowledge of the relevant markets, are able to consider and weigh the various risks presented by such investments, and have the financial resources necessary to bear the substantial risk of loss of investment in such investments.
- 1.27 Some Fund or sub-funds may have indirect exposure to emerging and less developed markets by investing in companies that are incorporated under the laws of, and have their registered office in, developed markets but carry out some or all of their economic activity in emerging markets. Investments in emerging and less developed markets are subject to increased political, regulatory and economic instability, poor transparency and greater financial risks. Investors should exercise caution when reviewing the Offering Documents.

Small/Medium Sized Companies

- 1.28 Some Fund or sub-funds may invest in small/medium sized companies. Investments in securities of companies with smaller market capitalizations are generally considered to offer greater opportunity for appreciation but also may involve greater risks than those normally associated with more established companies as they are generally more likely to be adversely affected by poor economic or market conditions. These companies may have limited product lines, markets, financial resources and bargaining power, or they may be dependent upon a limited management group. In addition to exhibiting greater volatility, small to medium sized companies' stocks may, to a degree, fluctuate independently of larger company stocks (i.e., small and medium sized company stocks may decline in price as the prices of large company stock rise or vice versa). The prices of securities of small and medium sized companies generally are more volatile than those of larger companies. For Fund specializing in such investments, particularly those large in size, are likely to have a greater impact on their running costs of running than similar transactions in larger funds or similar transactions in large sized companies because of the relatively illiquid nature of markets for small and medium sized companies' shares.

Compulsory Redemptions and Transfers

1.29 The Management Company or Manger of the Fund has the authority to require a Shareholder (including the Nominee) to redeem and/or transfer to an eligible person all or any portions of his Shares for any or no reason, including, but not limited to, under circumstances in which Fund has reason to belief the Shares are held in violation of any applicable law, rules, regulations, interpretation, guidelines or policy.

2. Risks of Specific Products

2.1 Depending on their structure, investment objectives and policies, different types of Fund may be subject to additional risks other than those stated in section 1 above:

(a) Index Funds

An index fund is a type of mutual fund with a portfolio constructed to match or track the components of a financial market index. An index fund may be subject to tracking error risk, which is the risk that the fund's performance may not track that of the underlying index exactly. This tracking error may result from the investment strategy used, and fees and expenses. Changes to the underlying index, regulatory requirements and rounding of prices may also contribute to replication errors. Although the Manager will monitor and seek to manage such risk in minimizing tracking error, there can be no assurance of exact or identical replication at any time of the performance of the index.

For those funds that are passively managed, the Manager will not have the discretion to adapt to market changes due to the inherent investment nature of the fund. Falls in the index are expected to result in corresponding falls in the value of the fund.

(b) Equity Funds

For those Fund that invest in equities, it is subject to the risks associated with trading equities. Equity prices may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling equities. An issuer's business is inherently subject to product/business cycle and to changes in management, personnel, demographics, competitive landscape and consumer preferences or sentiments. Further, an actual or perceived reduction in the financial strength of the issuer, or a downgrade of its credit ratings, could damage its business relationships and negatively impact its sales, revenue, profitability, dividend pay-out, and, ultimately, the share price. Conditions in the market can change rapidly causing price fluctuations. Decline in share prices may adversely impact the Fund and the interests of its investors.

(c) MMFs

MMFs are mutual funds that invest in the money markets involving debt securities of a short-term nature. A money market fund is not the same as a money market account at a bank. Unlike regular bank deposit accounts, MMFs are not protected deposits and are hence not protected by any deposit protection scheme in Singapore or elsewhere. The Share price of an MMF share price may go down, and you can lose some or all of your principal.

MMFs' dividend pay outs are variable. In other words, you do not know how much you would earn on your investment next month. The dividend rate could go up or down, and you could earn much less than you expected, you can end up needing more cash.

Although generally MMFs are considered to be safer than other investments like stocks, long-term average returns on MMFs tend to be much lower than long-term average returns on riskier investments. Over long periods of time, inflation can eat away at your returns, and you might be better served with investing in higher-yielding investments.

(d) Currency Funds

These Fund may invest primarily in debt securities and other permitted assets denominated in a certain currency. Hence, the assets of the Fund are also denominated in that currency. Some of them may also use in financial derivative instruments (“FDI”). Factors that affect the exchange rate of that currency viz-viz other currencies (e.g. differentials in inflation, differentials in interest rates, current account deficits, level of public debt, economic performance, geo-political factors etc...) may also affect the performance of the investments of the Fund and the price of its Shares. An investment in such Fund is neither insured nor guaranteed by any government, government agencies or government-sponsored agencies or deposit protection scheme. The capital paid for subscribing its Shares are not deposits or obligations of, or guaranteed or endorsed by, any bank, and the Share price may fluctuate up or down. Currency funds do not guarantee a stable NAV. All investments are subject to credit and counterparty risk and provide limited potential for capital appreciation and generally lower income than investments in medium- or long-term instruments would. Furthermore, their performance may be affected by changes in money market rates, economic and market conditions and in legal, regulatory and tax requirements.

(e) Securitized or Structured Debt Instruments

Some Fund may invest in various securitized or structured debt instruments. Such instruments include asset-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, collateralized debt instruments and collateralized loan obligations (“Products”). These Products provide exposure, synthetically or otherwise, to underlying assets and the risk/return profile is determined by the cash flows derived from such assets. Some of such Products involve multiple instruments and cash flow profiles such that it is not possible to predict with certainty the outcome from all market scenarios. Also the price of such an investment could be contingent on, or highly sensitive to, changes in the underlying components of the structured instrument.

The underlying assets of such Fund can take many forms including, but not limited to, credit card receivables, residential mortgages, corporate loans, manufactured housing loans or any type of receivables from a company or structured vehicle that has regular cash flows from its customers. Some Products may employ leverage which can cause the price of the instruments to be more volatile than if they had not employed leverage. In addition, investments in such Products may be less liquid than other securities. The lack of liquidity may cause the current market price of assets to become disconnected from the underlying assets’ value and consequently Fund investing in securitized instruments may be more susceptible to liquidity risk. The liquidity of a Product is much less than a regular bond or debt instrument, and this may adversely affect either the ability to sell the position or the price at which such a sale could be made.

(f) Mortgage-Related Securities

Generally, rising interest rates tend to extend the duration of fixed rate mortgage-related securities making them more sensitive to changes in interest rates. As a result, in a period of rising interest rates a Fund holding mortgage-related securities may exhibit additional volatility (extension risk). In addition, adjustable and fixed rate mortgage-related securities are subject to prepayment risk. When interest rates decline, borrowers may pay off their mortgages sooner than expected. This can reduce the returns of the Fund because it may have to reinvest that money at the lower prevailing interest rates. In addition investments in securitized products may be less liquid than other securities. The lack of liquidity may cause the current market price of assets to become disconnected from the underlying assets value and consequently Fund investing in securitized products may be more susceptible to liquidity risk. The liquidity of a securitized product can be less than a regular bond or debt instrument and this may adversely affect either the ability to sell the position or the price at which such a sale is transacted.

(g) Repurchase Transactions

Some Fund may involve repurchase transactions. The risks involved in such transactions may include: (a) in the event of the failure of the counterparty with which cash of a Fund has been placed there is the risk that collateral received may realize less than the cash placed out, whether because of inaccurate pricing of the collateral, adverse market movements, a deterioration in the credit rating of issuers of the collateral, or the illiquidity of the market in which the collateral is traded; and that (b) (i) locking cash in transactions of excessive size or duration, (ii) delays in recovering cash placed out, or (iii) difficulty in realizing collateral may restrict the ability of the Fund to meet redemption requests, security purchases or, more generally, reinvestment; and (c) repurchase transactions will, as the case may be, further expose a Fund to risks similar to those associated with optional or forward derivative financial instruments. Further, a key legal risk of a repurchase transaction is that the courts may determine that it is not a sale and an agreement to repurchase, but rather a loan to the seller and security given by the seller. The security interest may not be effective, and in the event of default of the counterparty and/or counterparty guarantor, the Fund will be left with only an unsecured claim against the counterparty and/or the counterparty Guarantor for the repurchase price and may not be able to recover any monies from them.

(h) High Yield Bonds/Non-investment Grade Bonds

Some Fund may invest in high yield bonds/ non-investment grade bonds and un-rated bonds which involve substantial risk. High yield bonds, non-investment grade bonds and un-rated bonds are regarded as being predominantly speculative as to the issuer's ability to make payments of principal and interest. Issuers of high yield bonds/ non-investment grade bonds or unrated bonds may be highly leveraged, subject to lower liquidity and higher volatility and may not have available to them more traditional methods of financing. An economic recession may adversely affect an issuer's financial condition and the market value of high yield bonds, non-investment grade bonds or un-rated bonds issued by such entity. High yield bonds, non-investment grade bonds and un-rated bonds are generally subject to greater loss of principal and interest than high-rated bonds. As such, this may adversely impact the Fund and/or the interests of investors.

(i) Convertible Debt Instruments

Some Fund may invest in convertibles/ convertible bonds/convertible debts which are a hybrid between debt and equity, permitting holders to convert into shares in the company issuing the bond at a specified future date. As such, convertibles/ convertible bonds/ convertible debts will be exposed to equity movement and greater volatility than straight bond investments. Investments in convertibles/ convertible bonds/ convertible debts are subject to the same interest rate risk, credit risk, liquidity risk and prepayment risk associated with comparable straight bond investments.

(j) FDI

Some Fund may invest in FDI for efficient portfolio management or for hedging or reducing the overall risk of their investments. The risks relating to FDI include counterparty/credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk. The leverage element/component of a financial derivative instrument can result in a loss significantly greater than the amount invested in the financial derivative instrument by a Fund. Exposure to financial derivative instruments may lead to a high risk of significant loss by a Fund. Some Fund may use derivatives extensively for investment purposes and may be exposed to additional leveraged risk, which may result in significant fluctuations of the NAV and/or, in worst case, extreme losses if where the relevant Manager is not successful in predicting market movements. This in turn may lead to an increase in the risk profile of such Fund.

(k) Non-traditional Funds

Non-traditional funds are investments that differ from traditional equity and bond investments on account of their investment style.

The most common form of a non-traditional fund is the hedge fund. Despite its name, ‘hedge funds’ do not necessarily involve hedging. They vary enormously in terms of their investment returns, risk profiles and investment strategies. Some hedge funds aim to make a profit and sometimes take on very high levels of risk. Hedge funds include all types of investment funds, investment companies and partnerships which use derivatives for investment rather than hedging purposes, which can carry out short sales or which can attain significant leverage from the investment of borrowed capital. Additional features of hedge funds are their free choice of investment categories, markets (including emerging markets) and trading methods.

Although hedge funds are often marketed as “all weather” funds that are able to perform under different market conditions, they are not “sure-win” products. Substantial (or even complete) loss of capital is possible. There are circumstances under which a particular strategy would work well, but there are also other circumstances where the strategy would not perform. Some hedge funds outperform the market while others lose money. Some deliver consistent returns, while others are volatile. You should always check whether the hedge fund suits your needs. Unless a hedge fund has a guarantee attached to it, nobody can give any absolute assurance about its future performance. Even then, you should check the level of guarantee provided. Hedge funds generally demand high minimum investments. They offer no more than limited subscription and redemption rights with lengthy notice periods.

Managers of hedge funds receive performance-linked bonuses and often have a personal stake in the fund. Performance fees may be charged in relation to an investment in a non-traditional fund, and this may be effected by way of deduction of securities held on behalf of you, which will reduce your holdings accordingly.

A Fund-of Hedge-Funds (“FoHF”) is a fund that exclusively invests in other hedge funds. Additional service in selecting the baby funds and monitoring their performance are provided by fund manager. A FoHF may have an extra layer of fees – one at the parent level and one at the baby funds level.

Hedge funds use alternative investment strategies and the risks inherent are often high and not typically encountered in traditional investment funds. Due to leverage, a small movement in the market can lead to a major gain, but any losses will also be magnified sharply. You acknowledge and accept that for such investments the substantial or entire amount of your investment can, under certain circumstances, be lost. It is common for there to be little information available concerning a non-traditional investment. The NAV of a hedge fund may be adversely affected because some of the underlying investment may not be actively traded and there may be uncertainties in valuation. Moreover, many investment strategies are highly complex and very difficult to understand. You should be aware that changes in strategy which can lead to a substantial increase in the level of risk are often overlooked, accorded too little attention or noticed too late. You should also check the background and experience of the hedge fund manager and the product features in the offering document and compare different products and see which one best fits your needs. You should consider your own financial circumstances and the suitability of hedge funds as part of your investment portfolio. You should consider the concentration risk and “don’t put all your eggs in one basket”.

The liquidity and tradability of non-traditional investments can vary a great deal. Hedge fund issues and redemptions are often only monthly, quarterly or annually. The redemption price of hedge fund may be adversely affected by the fluctuations in value of the underlying investment during a relatively long redemption period. Fixed holding periods lasting many years are not unusual. Some hedge funds may have exit penalties i.e. a redemption charge depending on the length of time you have stayed in the fund. In addition, for hedge funds that offer a guarantee at maturity, the guarantee may not apply if you redeem before maturity. You should consider your liquidity needs carefully. Provisions regarding trading frequency and holding periods may change frequently and rapidly.

Liquidations can stretch over many years. Many funds in this category have an offshore domicile which earns them the name “offshore funds”. They are subject to less stringent legislation and supervision, which, as a consequence, offers poorer investor protection. Problems or delays may also arise in the settlement of buy and sell orders for units in such funds. There is no guarantee that an investor’s legal rights will be enforceable.

You should read the Offering Documents, understand the nature of the hedge funds and the risks involved, seek independent professional advice and assess whether the hedge fund is suitable for you. Non-traditional investments can take countless different forms and involve a high degree of risk. They are not suitable for investors who cannot understand and afford to take on risks involved.
